Creditors of the banking firm of J. M. Ceballos & Co., which failed for $2,500,000 on Oct. 10, are puzzling themselves over the report of Assignee William V. Rowe, which has been made public. Persistent ru mors of strange features in the failure appear to be confirmed by Mr Rowe's report, and the creditors are anxious to discover why the assets nich were estimated by the firm at over $5,000,000 at the time of th failure, have shrunk to a value of $1,106,786.77.

At the time of the failure William Nelson Cromwell, counsel for th firm, announced that the embarrassment of Ceballos & Co. was due to the defalcation of Manuel Silveira, the Havana agent of the concern-Silveira, according to Mr. Cromwell, was to have come to New York with $1,000,000 due the bank. Titles Under a Cloud.

Private probing into the titles of all Cuban lands formerly under the control of Ceballos & Co. shows that they too, suffer from the cloud that bangs over all Cuban deeds. Five Cubans live, for example, on a tract of land none of them own. One of these gives title for the whole property to the American investor. The other four Cubans living on the land say nothing until the American enterprise has made extensive improvements; then
